SYNC AND SWIM

Creating Collaboration

Be yourselves. Reveal what matters. Thrive together.

Not your typical teamwork course. We skip the cheesy sports analogies and get real—talking strengths, struggles, pet peeves, and what's really going on. During this high-impact interactive course, participants go beyond surface-level team building to explore what drives true collaboration. Teammates unpack conflict, build trust, and create safer connections so they actually want to work together. Through honest conversations and practical tools, teams leave more connected, communicative, and motivated to do great work—together.

Bio

Imagine launching a course that immerses people in learning, ignites discovery, boosts retention, and equips them to apply what they've learned on the job with confidence and enthusiasm. I design courses that do exactly that.

I am a Senior Instructional Designer based in Plano, Texas with over 20 years of experience on both sides of the learning experience—designing courses and standing in front of the room delivering them. Each role informs the other and I use that insight for every course I design.

I have designed instructor-led (ILT), virtual instructor-led (VILT), and eLearning courses for hundreds of clients and led train-the-trainer programs to ensure confident, consistent delivery. My work spans a wide range of:

- Industries: hospitality, financial services, banking, military, airline, retail, consulting, quick service restaurants, telecom, technology, construction, energy, insurance, healthcare, and pharmaceuticals
- Departments: operations, HR, engineering, sales, marketing, and customer service
- Roles: executives, leaders, new managers, supervisors, and high-potentials
- Content areas: leadership, communication, difficult conversations, feedback, accountability, teamwork, resilience, influence, creativity, and facilitator skills

I have also facilitated more than 1000 client training sessions for groups of 3 to 3000 participants.

With this dual lens of design and facilitation, I understand what works, why it works, and how to make it stick. Rather than relying on generic activities, my courses include intentionally designed learning activities that are engaging without being gimmicky, reflective without being heavy, and practical enough to use the very next day. This has resulted in consistently high feedback scores and over 90% repeat business with client stakeholders.

And why should a great course ever be difficult to deliver? That's why I make my courses easy to train. Trainers always appreciate my care in providing clear, logical, easy-to-use resources. Your trainers will understand not just the content, but the “why” behind it, so they feel confident and excited to run the course.

I design courses that improve on-the-job performance and are easy to deliver. And I enjoy every minute of it!
